HUD Sustainable Community Regional Planning Grants: The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will award nearly $100 million in new grants to consortia of State, local, and tribal governments, as well as metropolitan planning organizations, in the development and execution of regional plans that integrate affordable housing with neighboring retail and business development and realize more livable and sustainable communities across the country.

The new Sustainable Communities Regional Planning Grant Program is intended to build economic competitiveness by connecting housing with good jobs, quality schools and transportation.

HUD Community Challenge Planning Grants: U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will award $40 million in Community Challenge Planning Grants to foster reform and reduce barriers to achieving affordable, economically vital, and sustainable communities. Such efforts may include amending or replacing local master plans, zoning codes, and building codes on a jurisdiction wide basis or in a specific neighborhood to promote mixed-use development, affordable housing, the reuse of older buildings and structures for new purposes. HUD's Community Challenge Planning Grant Program also supports the development of affordable housing through the development and adoption of inclusionary zoning ordinances and acquisition of land for affordable housing projects. These grants will be awarded in conjunction with DOT's TIGER II planning grants. To make it easier for communities to apply to both programs, DOT and HUD accepted a single application for both the TIGER II grants and the Community Challenge Planning grants and will be making joint awards as well as individual grants
